

ALSA Safety Rewards and Recognition Program Research

Like in any research one begins in the Library. In this case I begin with the "Internet" Library using the following:

a) Google Search Term "Safety rewards program" and "Safety Awards Program Canada"

1) The following articles are quite reasonable!

<http://siri.uvm.edu/library/npincprog/newapproach1.html>

Article on Safety incentive Programs

<http://siri.uvm.edu/library/npincprog/tradition2.html> More on Safety Incentive Programs

<http://www.caw.ca/whatwedo/health&safety/factsheet/hfsfissueno8.asp>

Canadian Auto Workers – "Safety Awards Blame Workers"

2) The following document can aid in development of corporate policy

<http://hr.osu.edu/policy/policy315.pdf>

"Rewards and Recognition Policy" from Ohio State University

3) Companies that develop reward and recognition programs

<http://www.safetyworld.com/> Victor House Publications

<http://www.premierincentives.com/> Premier Incentives

<http://www.billsims.com/> Bill Sims Company

<http://www.hre.gov.ab.ca/whs/network/awards.asp> Work Safe Alberta

<http://www.cashort.com/safety/safety.cfm> CA Short Company

<http://www.ccohs.ca/> Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety

4) Examples of an industry type of reward scheme.

<http://www.amebc.ca/healthsafety.htm> Association of Mineral Exploration BC

<http://www.pipeline.ca/> Pipeline Contractors Association

http://www.intrewards.com/incentives/safety_rewards.htm

Linens-n-Things "safety incentive program"

<http://www.safety-council.org/info/traffic/fleet.html> Canadian Safety Council

Google Search Term "promotional products Alberta"

<http://www.promocan.com/> Promotional Products Association of Canada Inc.

<http://www.promotionscanada.com/home.html> GP Promotional Products Ltd.

<http://www.brymark.com/>

<http://www.albertaembroidery.com/>

<http://www.elitesportswear.com/>

More companies than listed above provide all kinds of promotional material. Many more can be found in the yellow pages under "Promotional Products". There are retail stores that by their very nature are useful such as:

Mountain Equipment Co-op – Lots of cool outdoor gear

Canadian Tire – Lots of cool automotive or household stuff

Marks Work Warehouse – Lots of cool outdoor clothes

M&M Meats – Frozen food stuff

Golftown – No introduction needed here, just go.

Campers Village – Lots of camping gear, etc.

And of course one could not be complete without a trip to your favorite Survey Supplier.